ADMINISTRATION

A Teacher Affects Eternity: (She) Can Never Tell Where (Her) Influence Stops

—H.B. Adams

With these words we dedicate the 1969 Tamarack to Mrs. Helen Beaver, who retired this year.

A graduate of the University of Tennessee, Mrs. Beaver has taught in many schools. Among these are the Pueblo Junior College, Pueblo, Colorado; University of Washington, Seattle, Washington; and the University of Montana, Missoula, Montana.

Since 1951, Mrs. Beaver has been on the North Central High School home economics staff. At the time of her coming to North Central, the famous North Central Doll Shop was yet being produced. Throughout the years of its presentation, Mrs. Beaver designed and made the costuming for the show.

Sewing, tailoring and child development have been subjects specifically under her direction in the home economics department.

Upon retirement Mrs. Beaver and her husband, retired engineer, Lewis K. Beaver, plan to travel, visiting in Hawaii and spending more time in Alaska with her daughter and her family.

Summing up the feeling of countless students who have known Mrs. Beaver is the remark of former student, Mrs. Carol Nybert Quigley: "She is to me the perfect example of a 'lady' one of those rare people who make you realize the only limitations in life are those we set upon ourselves."

Hope for Success Lies in Common Understanding

North Central's educational system ran smoothly as the result of successive discussions between our principal, John P. Rodkey, and superintendent, Dr. Albert Ayars.

Judgment was passed on many issues, from the general to the particular, as they were reviewed by the Board. The student most often observed the School Board's effectiveness as new personnel were engaged to fill vacated positions. The School Board endeavored to keep the different aspects of the school as up-to-date as was possible.

North Central was fortunate to enroll James B. Green as a student this fall. After careful study of the qualifications of the many schools in the United States whose curricula include a program for the visually handicapped, he chose North Central.

GRADUATES

Mr. Theisen, senior class advisor, confers with the officers, elected by the senior class were Ron Ashley, president, Bill Bush, vice-president, Darcy Ashford, secretary and Kathy Cameron, treasurer.

To make the planning of a busy senior year easier, senior representatives from each homeroom meet every Tuesday, to discuss ideas and events that the senior class is interested in.

President Ron Ashley loses the dignity of office as he is literally toppled when NC seniors have a skating session at Tiffany's president Bill Bush seems to be more amused than concerned over his fellow officer's fate, as are senior class members in the background.

CLASSES

The Active Junior

Guided by Mr. Gregory Sanford, the junior class officers, Bob Ewell, president; Jay Sullivan and Mark Olson, vice-presidents; Laura Lee Bare, secretary; and Paula Larkin, treasurer, organized and directed various activities concerning the Junior Prom. Backing the officers was a very enthusiastic class. The Junior Prom gave this portion of the student body a sampling of the responsibilities they must face in their next year as seniors.

Right, discussing the evening's events are Mavis Bierig, Marc Miller, Rosemary Morrill, Allen Waid, Denise Westfall, Pat Logan, Kandy Krebs, Gayle Coffin, Lia Westad, Jay Sullivan, Dick Lewis and Bob Ewell.

Indians Show Determination

North Central started the season with a smashing win over Ferris. The next week the first place tribe took the field against the Shadle Park Highlanders destroying them in a last minute thriller at Joe Albi Stadium. After this game the varsity was elected "Team of the Week". Scott Garske was chosen "Back of the Week" by the Sports Writers and Broadcasters. Another teammate, Bob Ewell, led the city league rushing statistics. Coach Jerry Martin expressed his pride about this year's team by saying, "They were the most dedicated group of players I have coached in a long time." Gary Creighton was chosen for all-city tackle and teammate Scott Garsky was elected second string all-city back.

in Early Wins

Varsity basketball constantly showed promise. Early wins were over Clarkston, East Valley and Lewis and Clark. The Indians made a good showing in the Christmas tournament. Any hopes for going to district were ruined when Ferris stole the season's last game in overtime. Two Braves placed well in the city standings for scoring. Dave Herron was fourth while Scott Garske was sixth.

Frosh Brighten Hopes for Future B-Squad Works on Building Skills

This year's B-squad basketball team was haunted by bad luck and injury.

Coach George Chalich led the team for a second year. The team showed spirit and strove to polish the skills which would help them in their varsity roles.

North Central's Frosh Basketball team, coached by David Betts, stormed through the city and wound up the season in third place.

There were players who had total points over 50. Curt Lind, highest scorer, had 68. Ranked second was Mike Thompson with 67. Dave Retter was third with 55 points.

The team had a record of five wins and three losses in league competition. They also won a game against Mater Clari Seminary.

Swim and Track

Coach Leonard Long took over the cross country team this year. Armed with the knowledge he gained as two-year All-American in cross country at Whitworth, he emphasized keeping the same pace each of the three miles of the race. However, sickness and injury caused a poor showing in city standings.

The team was headed by one of the three returning lettermen, Chris Hay. Another, Linus Nelson, received the team's inspirational award.

North Central's swimming team, coach by Bill Diedrick, participated in frequent meets at Shadle Park.

The divers highlighted the season, and junior Ron Zoeller went to state. Prospects should be better next year with most of the team returning.

Wrestlers Take Second in City

Ravaging through the first half of the season, the North Central Wrestling Team remained on top of the league along with Rogers.

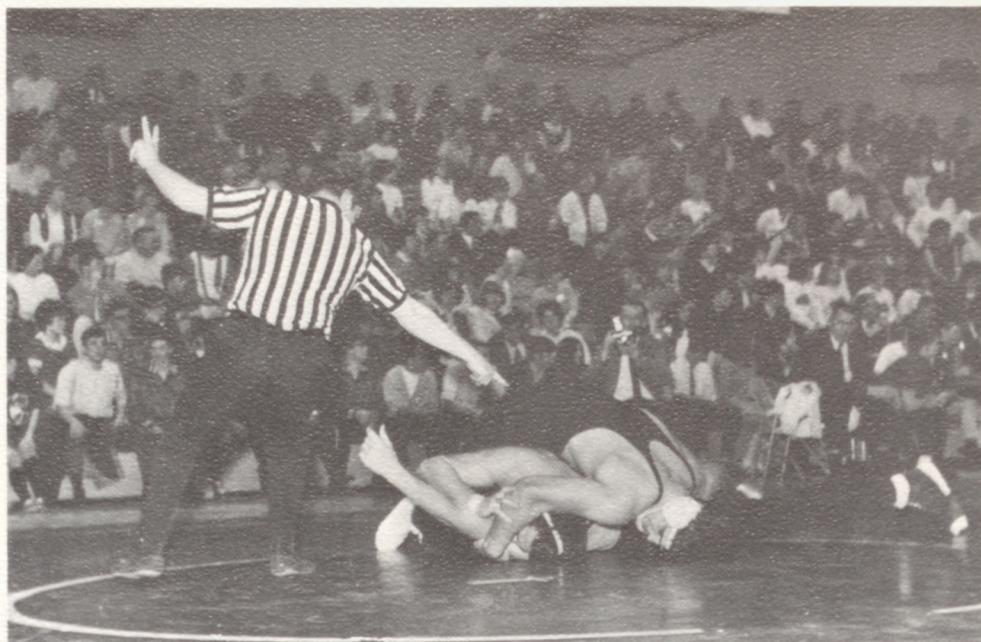

The first encounter with Rogers, our arch rival, ended in an 18-18 tie. Then Lewis and Clark shocked the whole wrestling league with a win over our grapplers.

Bouncing back, North Central's team defeated Shadle and Ferris. However, clashing at the Kennedy Pavillion in the last match of the year, Rogers managed to defeat the Indians 20-17.

Hogan's Heroes ended the season with a second place standing.

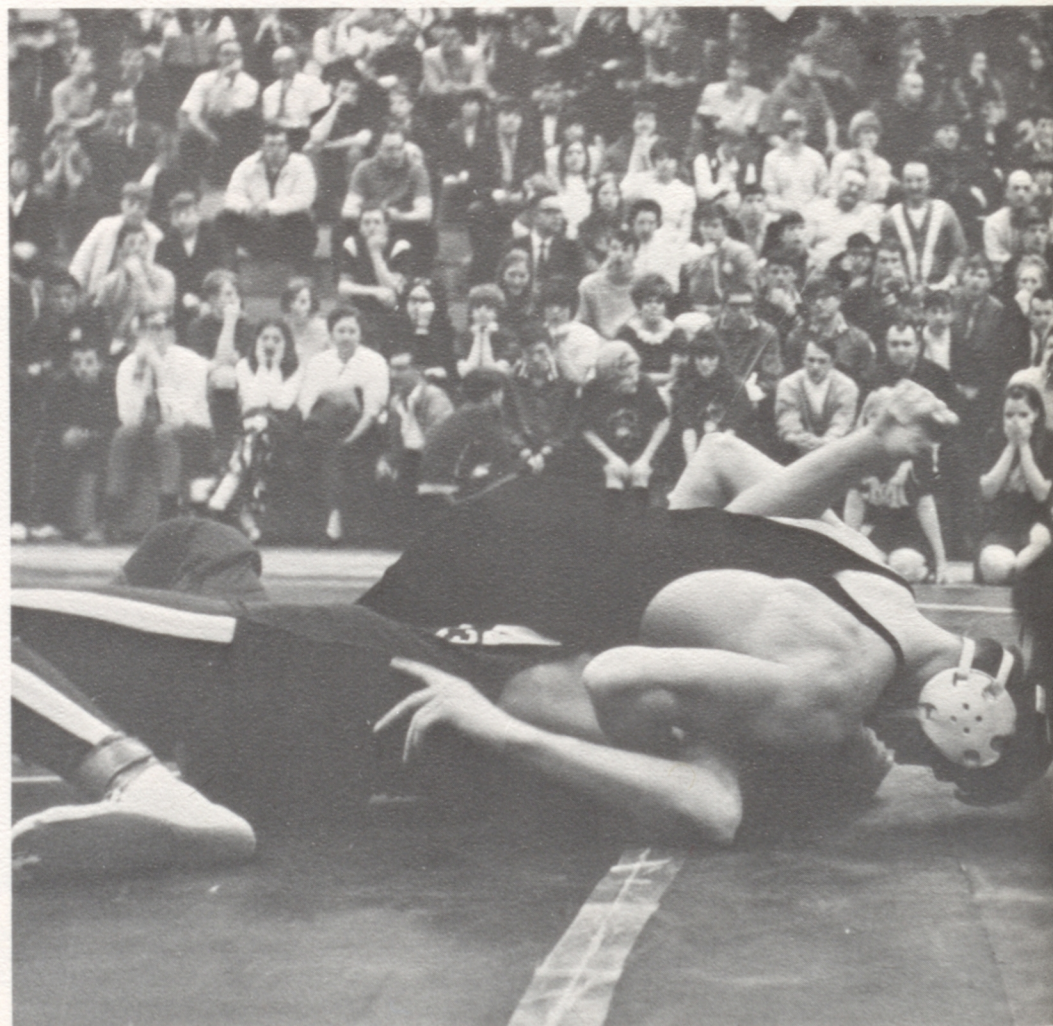

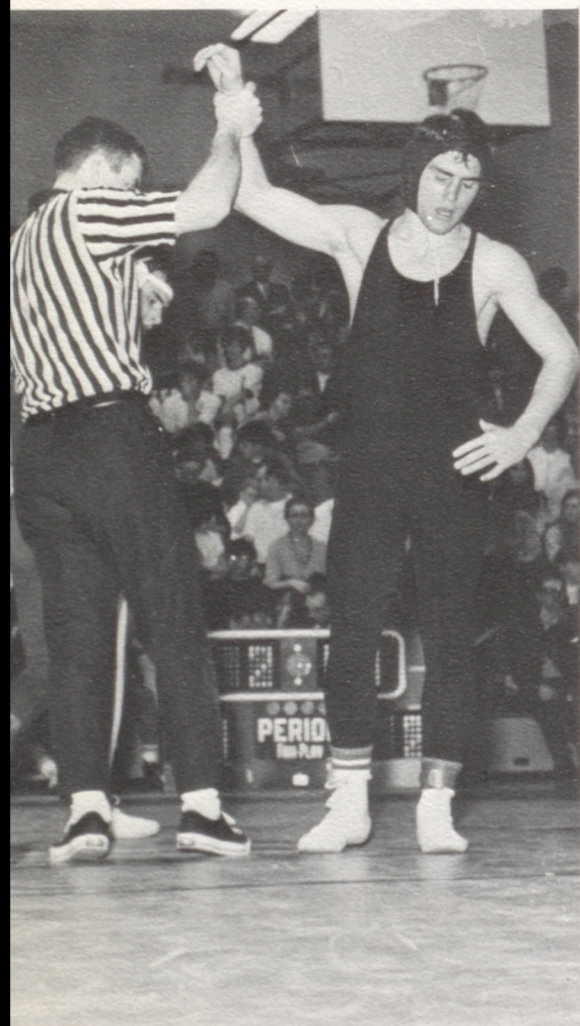

Mike Ross and Bob Ewell led the way in the State Tournament at Ellensburg, Washington, with fourth place wins.

O'Meara, Dan DiCicco, Steve Delong, Brion Potter.

Driven by Coach Jim Upchurch, the second string wrestling team, which included freshmen this year, showed a tremendous amount of determination. Working on technique and form throughout the year, the grapplers earned a second place berth in the city standings with a 7-5 record.

This year's team proved to be a tough challenge for the varsity, and positions were taken away many times by such outstanding JV wrestlers as Junzo Nakagawa and Jim Shubert.

Wrapping up the season, the JV participated in the AAU Tournament at Pullman, March 15. The team also joined the Varsity squad at a banquet March 20th honoring all students who took part in winter sports.

Coach Upchurch said he looks for an even greater season next year, and he praised the wrestlers for the determination and hard work shown by them.

This year the golf squad showed strong in the city league. Coached by Coach Robert Barnard, the team placed second.

The team was led by Mark Boyson, a returning letterman, and Bob Mitchell, also a veteran on the squad. This spring the team will travel to Kennewick for the State tournament. The prospects for the team next year are extremely bright with three returning lettermen.

Our number one man, Mark Boyson, demonstrates the form that made him one of the top men in the city.

North Central's 1969 baseball team, led by Pat Blair, Mick and Rick Carlson, Glenn Samms, and Frank Nichols, started running the diamond with snow yet on the ground.

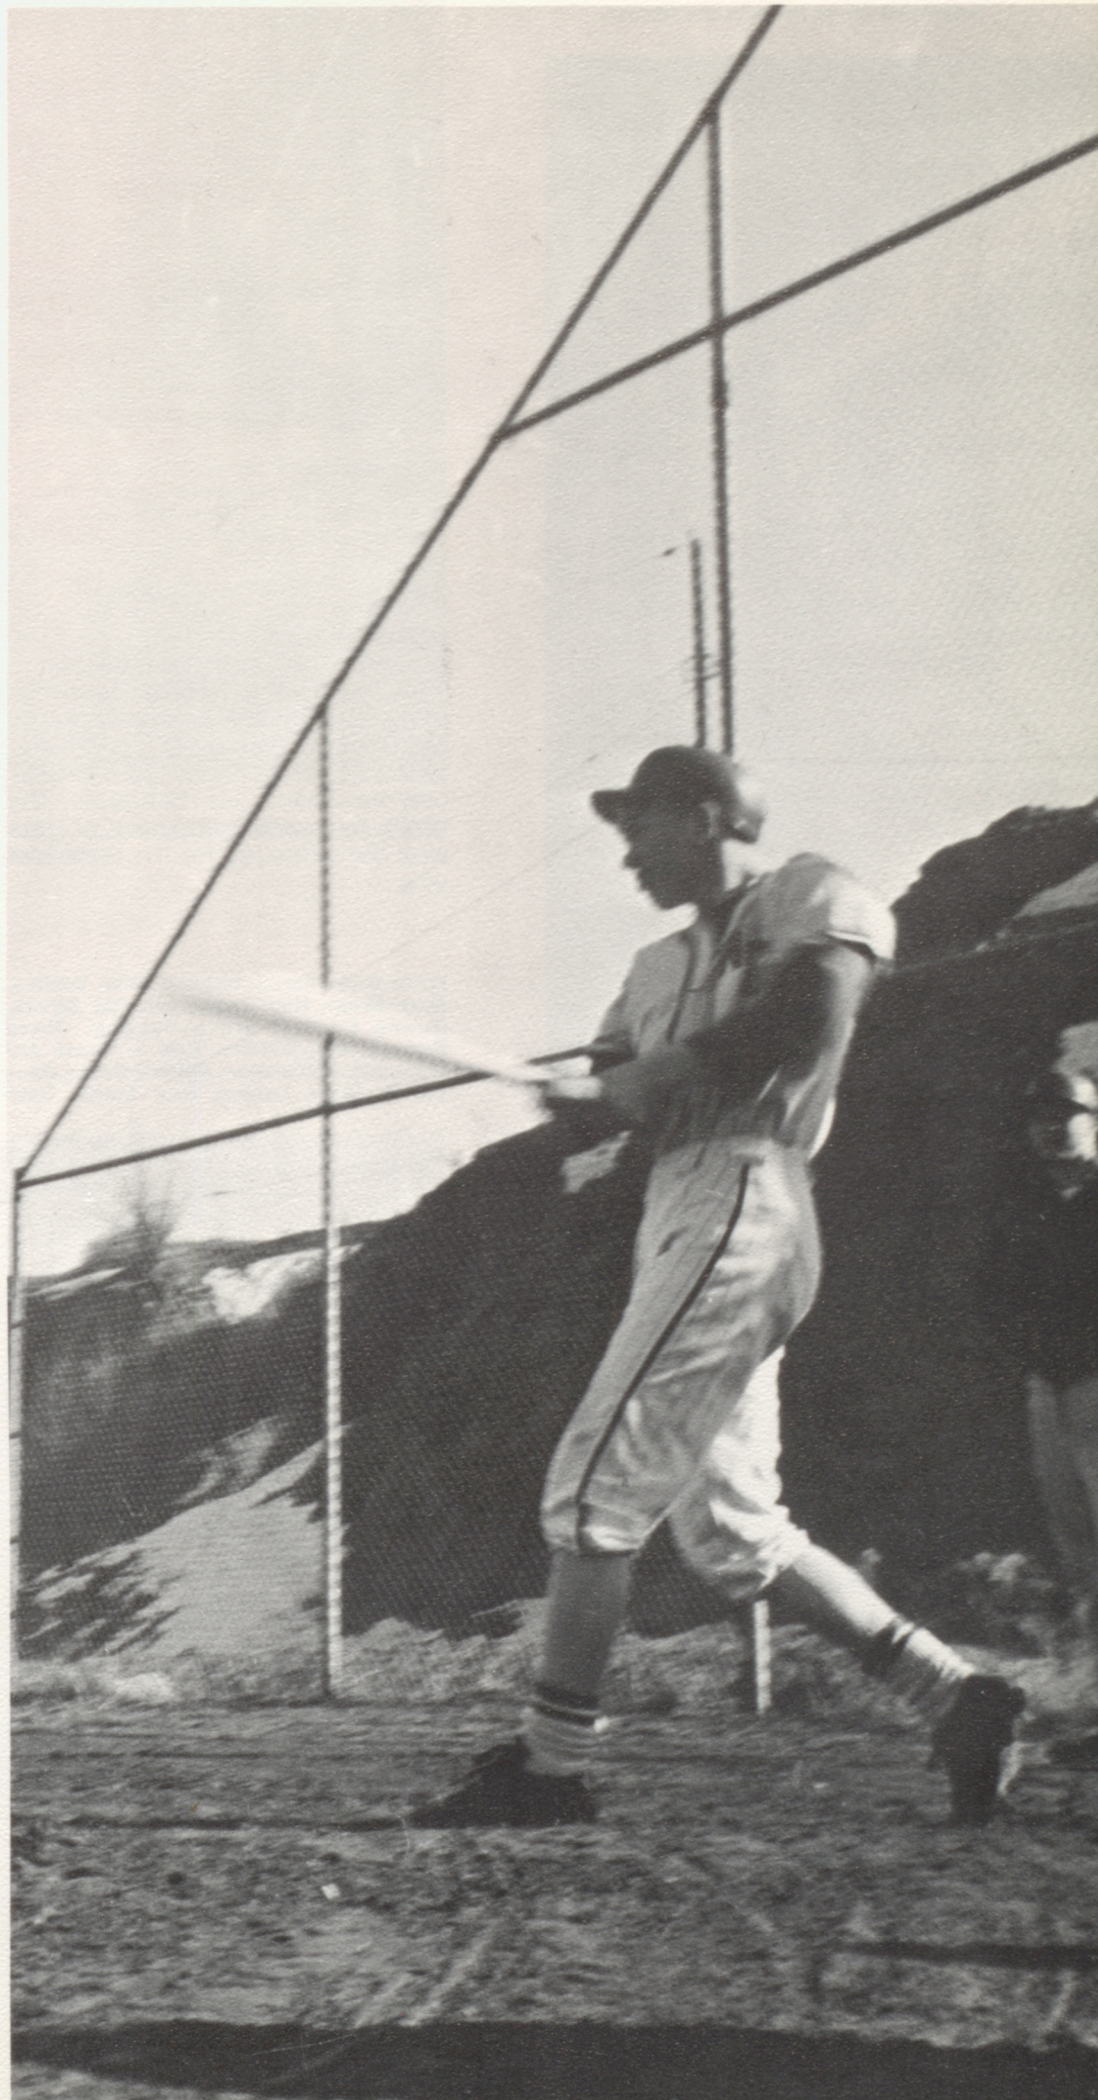

Coach Al Manfred said, "All the boys have plenty of experience, and they are a tough team." Hitting seemed to be posing a problem during practices, but during the season improved immeasurably. On April 4 the season started with a league game against Coeur d'Alene.

Led by Coach Joe Schauble, the team has some returning players who did a fine job for the team last year.

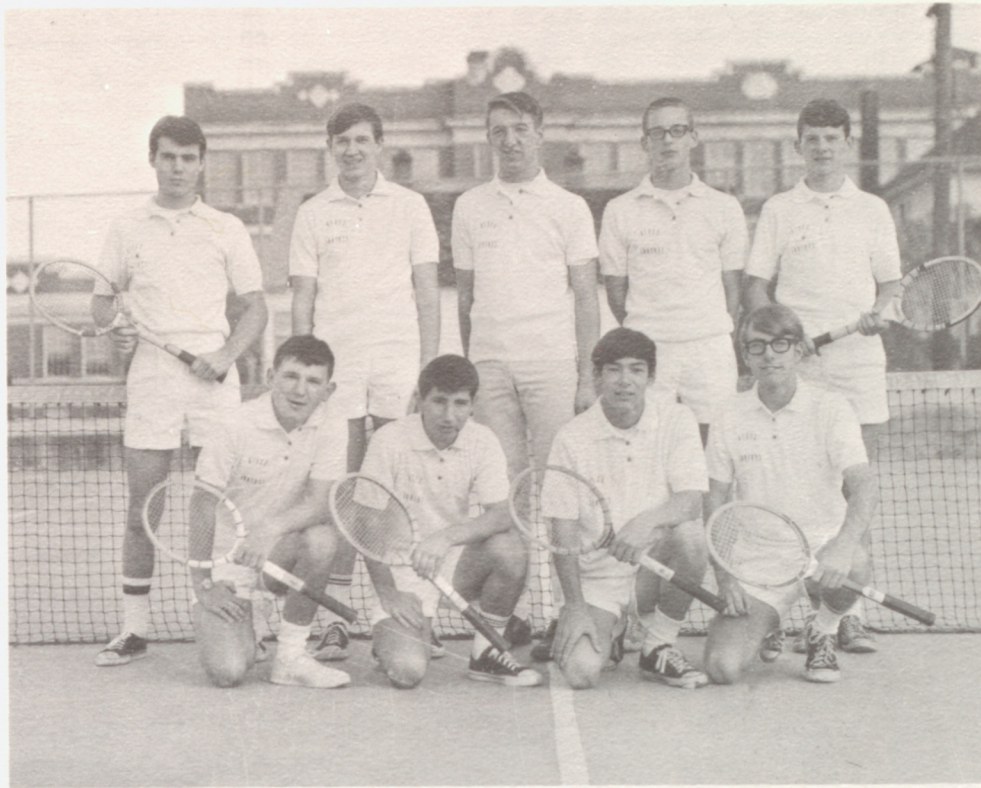

The Frosh this year looked forward to a good year with a good turnout. Coach Bill Diedrick led the team and strove to turn out good ballplayers who hope to go on to distinguish themselves with the varsity.

Starting the fall tennis season with only two returning lettermen, Tom Costello and Don Wolfe, North Central's tennis team, led by Mr. William Nye, had a tough season finishing in the lower part of the league. The team gained experience and skill in league competition which helped prepare them for this spring's competition.

The B-squad team was tough last fall and should provide stiff competition this spring.

Trackmen Make Mark Through

Thirteen lettermen are returning this year to lead a strong North Central track team. Eight of the starters are seniors and are spread evenly about the squad.

The other five returning lettermen are juniors who will fill in the sprint distances, middle distances and high jumping.

A solid group coming up from last year's B-squad will also add to the team's strength in the broadjump and shotput.

The team's strong areas are in the high jump and shotput. The 440 is also an area which will produce points.

Girls' varsity tennis took second place after a hotly contested battle. Patty Price led the enthusiastic team as the number one player. Competition was greater between North Central and other city high schools, as the valley schools formed their own league this year.

The "B" squad had an undefeated season this fall and proudly claimed the number one position. A new experience this year was the all-city "B" squad tennis tournament. With the "B" squad record in mind, North Central should look forward to many more successful seasons.

Honor

Marching, cheering and half-time stunts at games are just part of the many activities of North Central's Red Feathers. Actively supporting the March of Dimes, Red Feathers stuffed envelopes and participated in the annual balloon sale. Soon after the semester, they went into action planning the Red Feather-Warrior Dance. Other important events were the Apple Blossom Festival in Wenatchee and the parade. Preparation began as soon as the weather permitted. The Lilac Parade at home ended the season.

Because Color Girls is a stepping stone to other various honor units, members work hard to keep high grades and to develop necessary leadership ability.

We Are the Indians—Stayin' Cool "n" Calm

North Central's majorettes added a new touch to their twirling this year. Before school started, Sue Noble, Marcia Sather, Kathy Alexander, and Debbie Selfridge attended twirling camp, where they learned new ideas used in stunts this year.

Setting a new record, the majorettes marched in every football stunt, several pep cons, and the Lilac Parade.

Tension Mounts as Tamarack Goes to Press

Preparation for the '68-'69 Tamarack began last summer with several meetings, when staff members were assigned positions and a theme was selected. After attending the Whitworth yearbook clinic, the staff felt it might be worthwhile to try something new in yearbook trends—three column layout. Early in the year selections of pictures for the color sections were made. Much thought and time went into the cover design, colors and texture. Third period constantly was a scene of drawing layouts and scheduling pictures. The entire year was filled with getting ads and meeting deadlines, all which were part of the many extra hours spent on the annual. After meeting their last deadline in March, a staff for the coming year was selected, which this year's staff helped to train. In May a trip was made to Pischels, our publishers in Pasco, Washington. May 29, Tamarack Day, climaxed the year.

National Honor Comes to News

North Central News received the distinction this year of being named to first place honors by the National Scholastic Press Association. Few papers have received this distinction.

Published eighteen times yearly, the North Central News keeps the school informed. This work is carried on by journalism students selected for their evidence of skill from among those students in Mrs. McCarthy's journalism classes.

Key Club Wins Honors

North Central's Key Club received national recognition for its Day Care Center at the First Presbyterian Church. Other activities this year have been its annual canned food drive for the Morning Star Boys' Ranch, working with Vox Puellarum on the Diabetic Association Drive and a trip to Coos Bay for their convention.

VOX

Vox Puellarum, having won the Service Award for 1968, is still maintaining its honor as being one of North Central's most outstanding clubs. This girls' service organization participates in such activities as serving luncheons for Senior Citizens and at the Soroptimist International Spring Tea. The group also provides for two orphans at Hutton Settlement.

Other activities are working with retarded children and participating in the March of Dimes and Diabetic Association Drive with North Central's Key Club.

Future Nurses Aid at Local Hospitals

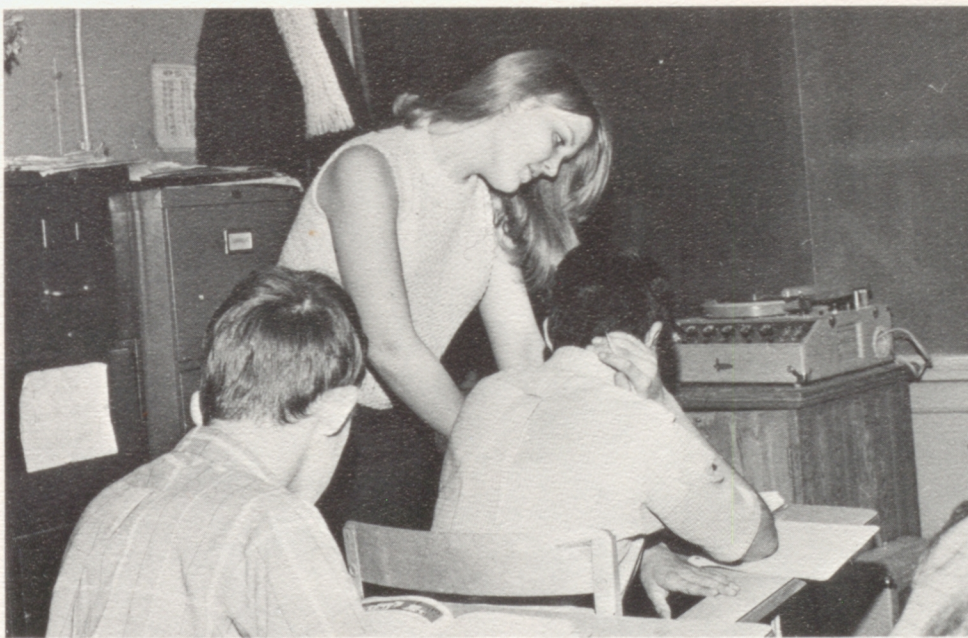

North Central's Future Nurses' group has the responsibility of working yearly at hospitals or visiting the aged in nursing homes. During the school term, FNA sponsored a bake sale, sent favors to St. Luke's Hospital at Thanksgiving and made stuffed animals at Christmas for orphans in Vietnam. At the time of graduation, Future Nurses presents a scholarship to a senior girl going on to nursing school.

In addition, throughout the year exchanges were made with Freeman and Mead to enable the chapter members to study teaching methods.

FTA's final contribution was the selling of licorice to obtain money for a scholarship and a chapter key presented to an outstanding senior.

Flu Epidemic Brings Halt to Christmas Activities

Cercle de Menage, North Central's Home Economics Club, cancelled all holiday functions after planning to carol and deliver favors to local nursing homes.

Because of the unfavorable flu conditions, Cercle's activities were not numerous. A joint dinner with the school's Future Nurses group was scheduled and the group chose the design for their new uniforms.

Warrior Funds Purchase School Victory Gong

"Apples, ice cream, peanuts anyone?" The money from these sales helped to buy the school's new Victory Gong. Sales were put on by North Central's letterman club, commonly known as "Warriors".

Other activities included sponsoring a car bash. This resulted in the fire department arriving to extinguish a fire in the partially demolished 1951 Mercury. The Red Feather-Warrior Dance, another highlight of the year, was on Saturday, February 15. The theme was "Sweetheart 69".

Helping to plan all these activities were the officers, along with Jerry Martin, adviser.

Talent Club Gives to Charity

North Central's Talent Club project this year was to support various charities by donating all monies received from their appearances. Also benefiting from their appearances was the Indian Center at Gonzaga U.

One of the oldest clubs at North Central, Tau Chi, or Talent Club, gave talented students an opportunity to gain experience in the field of entertainment. Their purpose was to furnish talent for outside organizations throughout the school year.

Talent ranged from a classical piano solo to readings. Dancers and singers have also taken their places before the footlights to fulfill a club requirement of one performance each semester for every member.

Commercial Club Changes Rules

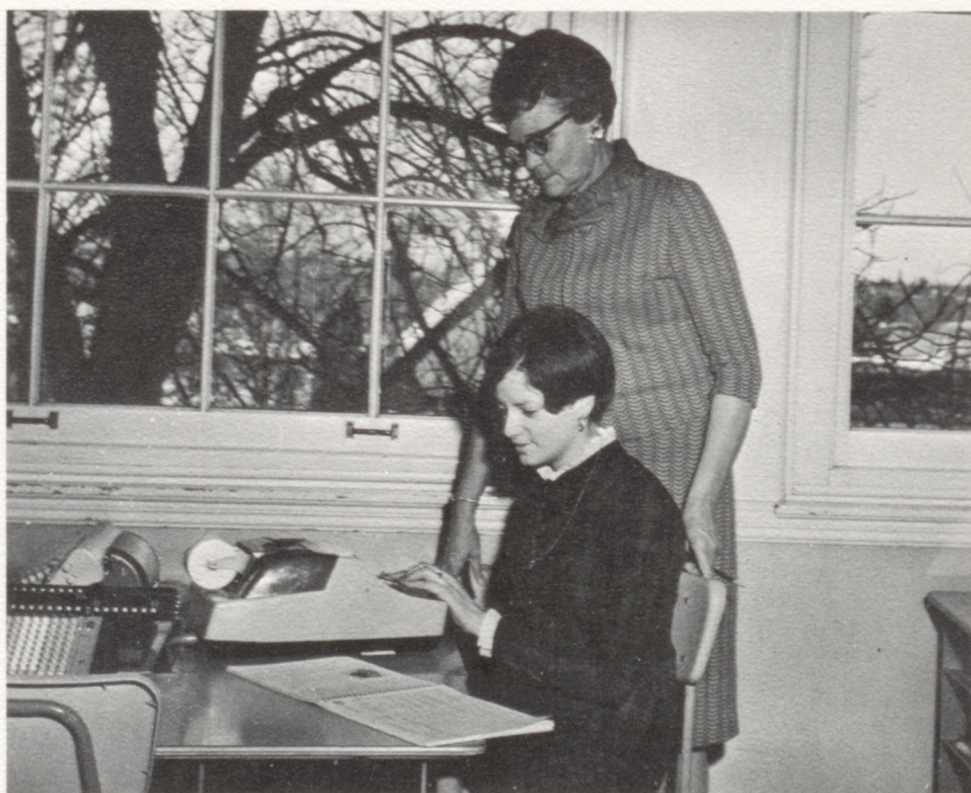

Members of Commercial Club decided this year that in order to stimulate more interest, membership should be opened to any student of commercial subjects.

Projects were carried on during the year which increased interest in business education and gave insight into careers in the business world.

Every year pins have been awarded by the club to winners of the typing contest. Pins are awarded to those who type 60, 50 or 40 words per minute.

Faculty adviser for the club was Mrs. Mary York, who supervised meetings which were held in the homes of club members.

Mrs. York, Commercial Club adviser, keeps a watchful eye on Kathy Sather as she uses the adding machine.

Art Club

North Central's Art Club supported the school's activities in many ways—formulating and carrying out many new and unique forms of advertising was its specialty.

For the annual Cotton Day Dance, it provided a psychedelic light show and decorations.

Appropriate for this page is the emblem worn on all of North Central's color days.

NC's Deca Wins Honors

Developing future leaders in the area of marketing and distribution the ideals of the DECA classes at NC. Three credits are received for the class. One of these credits is given for actual work experience.

There are two clubs, DECA and DECA Checkers. Roberta Francis represented NC's DECA at the Governor's Conference in Olympia, and Lorna Loudon served as the DECA Checkers' governor.

Allan Thacker, Sandy Cummings and Roberta Francis were honored at a luncheon on February 21 for having outstanding manuals. Only six manuals were selected by Retail Trade Bureau as being outstanding from the many entries submitted by the city schools.

Science Club Keeps Busy

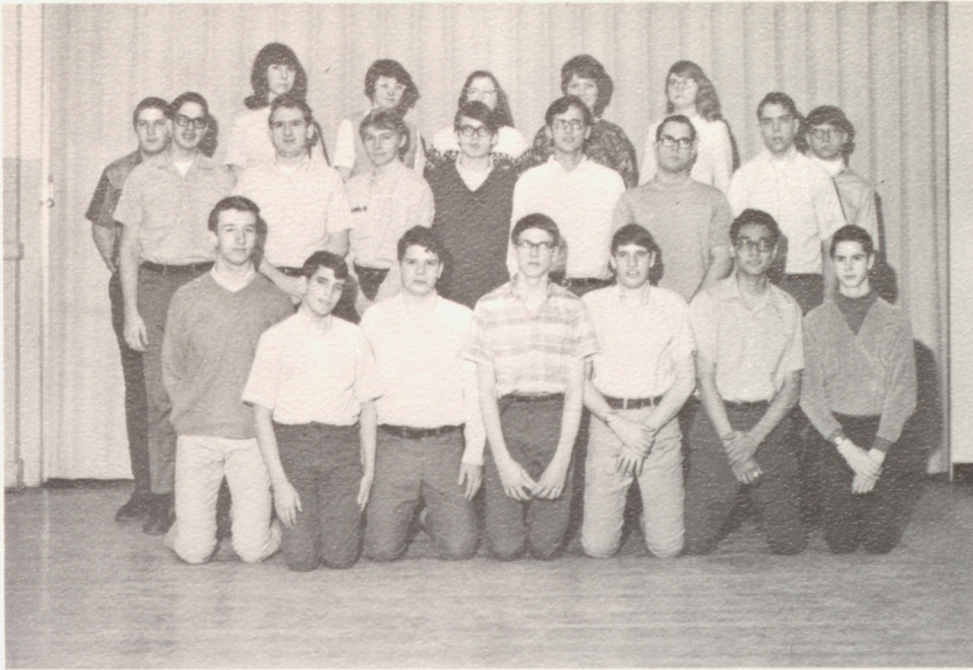

Keeping active with field trips and various school projects, North Central's Science Club bussed to WSU's open house at Pullman, visited the carbon dating center at Whitworth College and sponsored an NC student for the Inland Empire Science Fair.

The Marmes Rock Shelter on the Palouse River was one of the spots visited by the adventuresome Science Clubbers. This is the resting place of the oldest human remains ever found in the Western Hemisphere. They were dated from 11,000 to 13,000 years old, as determined by the carbon dating process.

The delicacy of an ancient needle found in this area led archeologists to believe that the Marmes man was able to make very intricate products with his crude tools. Efforts to preserve the site from backup waters of the Lower Monumental Dam proved futile when seepage from an underground spring flooded the area.

Being President of Science Club isn't always easy as Steve Aylor pauses for a rest.

International Club

International Club is composed of French, German and Spanish Students of the foreign language classes.

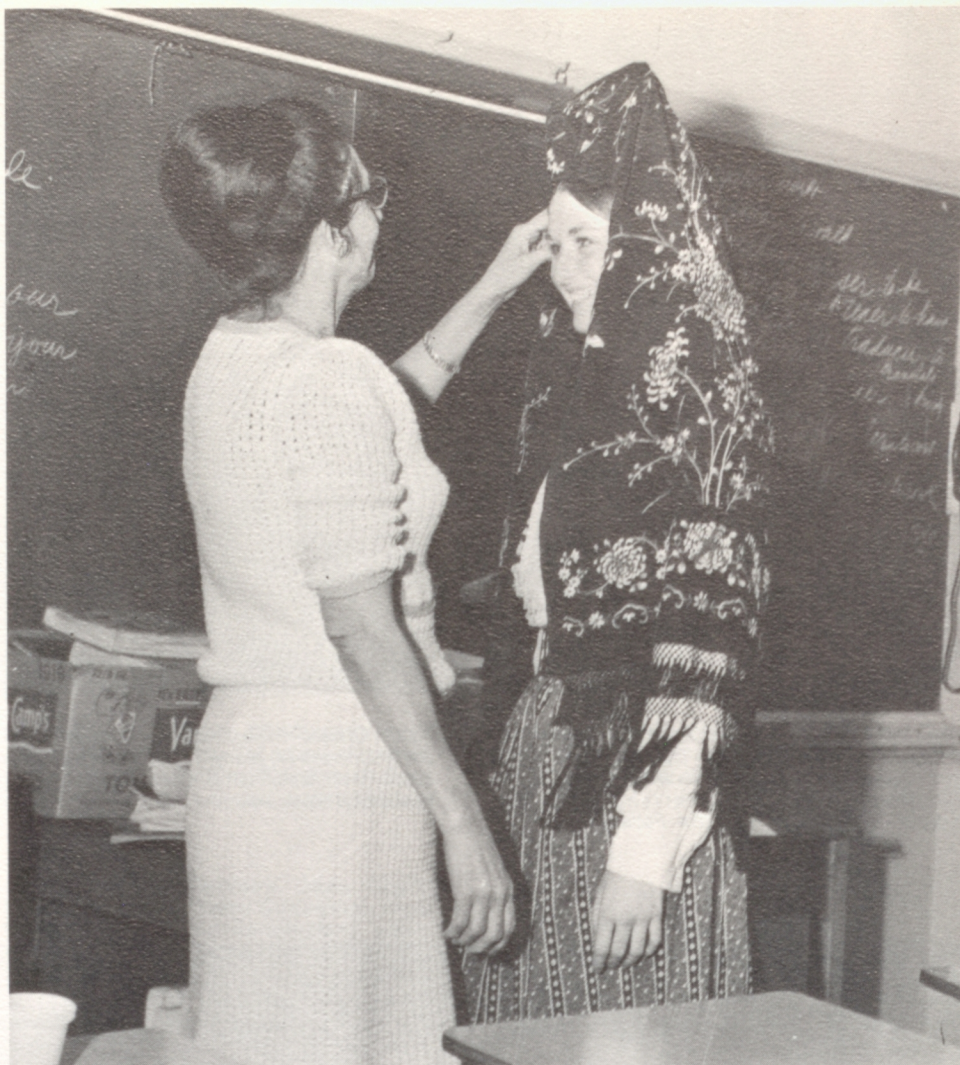

Organized in 1962, the club promotes further interest in the foreign language field. The adviser for this year was Mrs. Orosia McHugo.

After accepting about one hundred new members, International Club still had problems of recruiting and maintaining membership.

The total membership soared to an all time high for any school club. In order to accomodate all of these new enthusiasts, three initiations had to be held.

After revising, then re-vising the constitution, the kids now have a strong active club. The year was completed with the annual picnic which is always the gala event of the year for the club.

Right, Mrs. McHugo adviser, fixes Debbie McBride's Spanish costume.

It isn't always an easy job being debate adviser, as Mr. Pelkie points out.

Northcutt, Marc Miller, Kim Davis, Kurt Horton, Mark Boyson, Dave Ankenbrand, Dave Orcutt, Doug Kropff.

Debaters Take Honors at State

This year the North Central debate team had the pleasure of boasting that they were the only team from Eastern Washington that placed at the Washington State University Debate Tournament.

At WSU they came home with second place, which for the team's second year is a feat in itself. A third place at the University of Washington helped start off this year's season.

Richard Pelkie, team adviser, was heard quoting the purpose of debate. Mr. Pelkie says that in debate, "The highest goal is to seek the truth, but included as goals would be the development of proper methods of research, presentation, speaking ability and the ability to think and respond instantly."

Debators do more than just debate. Some of their other activities are: impromptu speeches, extemporaneous speaking and oral interpretations.

Varsity debaters Janine Wittrock, Carolyn Radford, Marc Miller, Kim Davis and Mark Boyson spent many hours preparing in the library.

Lauretta Petruss, Vince Lloyd, and Doug Doyle portray a scene from play, "The First Dress Suit."

Thespians Work Hard

"The Crowns of Creation" was the name given to Theatre 81. A contest was held to choose the name.

Thespians had only a few members returning until their open house when they doubled their membership.

Thespians are students who have least ten points. Being in plays, public speaking and ushering at the Civic Theatre are a few ways to earn points.

This year Thespians presented "The First Dress Suit." April 16, 17 and 18 it was presented at the University of Idaho.

Thespian Officers, Karen Gillogly, Ginny Cargile, Mike Eakins, Melody Carpenter, Nancy Giger and adviser Mrs. Lindberg.

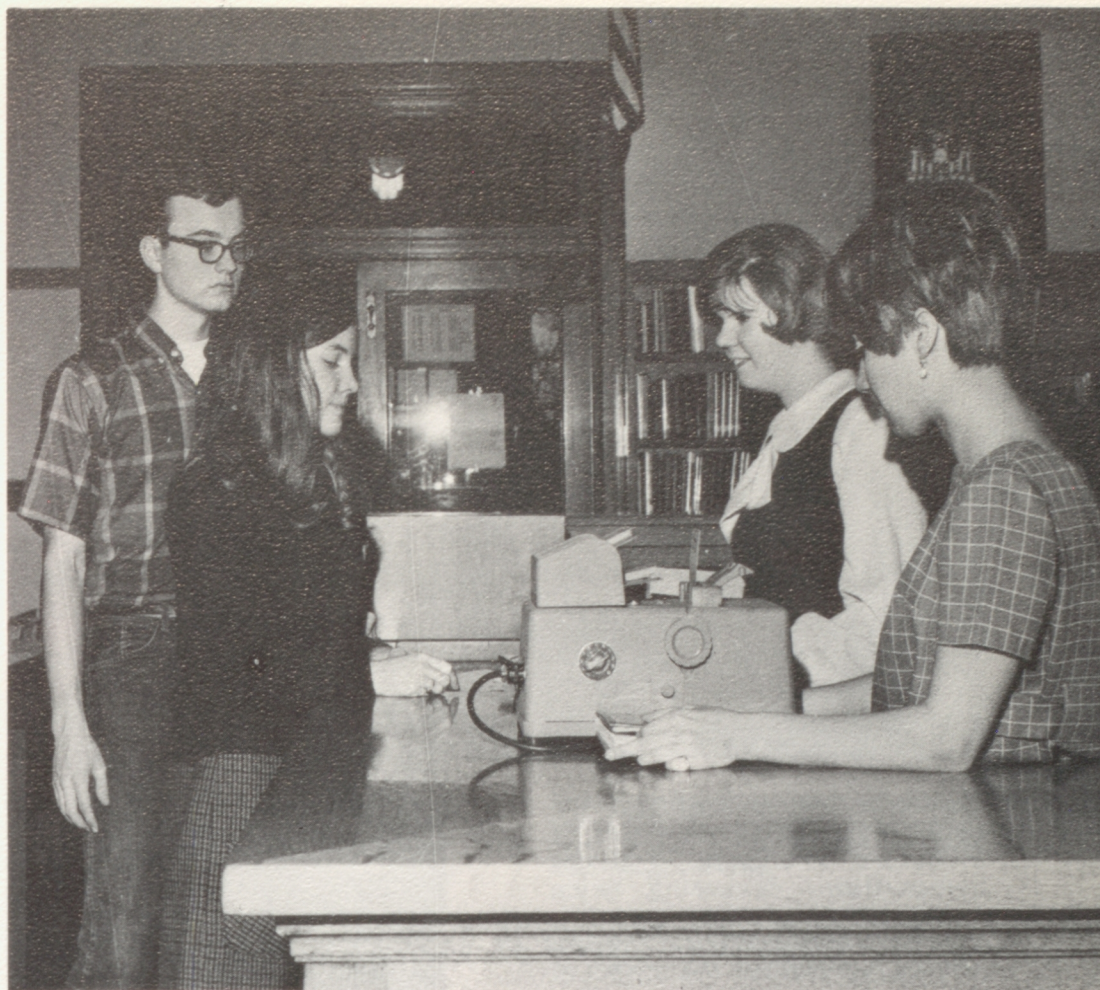

Straightening the stacks is Stella Mills, librarian and Library Club sponsor.

Library Club

Student library workers are an integral part of the smooth operation of the North Central library.

Assisting Mrs. Stella Mills and Mrs. Gladys Brooks, they not only check books, but also sort them, send out pink overdue notices and busily try to keep pace with the constant demand for reference material for term and research papers demanded by English and social studies teachers.

Sharon Naslund and Regina Sims check out books to early morning students, seniors David Ankenbrand and Lynn Richards, who are making frantic last minute notes for term papers.

Front Row: Regina Sims, Scott Larson, Kellie Arp, Debby Repp, Joan Kensok, Lauranna Peterson, Gail Schafer. Row 2: Sharon Forness, Merrie Lee Bonner, Dee Matthews, Linda Rau, Marsha Atwood, Joyce Johnson. Row 3: Linda Hodges, Nova Garinger, Connie Jones, Janell Sullivan, Gay Watts, Sharon Peterson, Marge Northcutt, Sharon Naslund, Sandy Calder were active Library Club members.

Matching each other in a game of wits, Linus Nelson takes a lead while Ted Panknin studies his next move. Both are members of North Central's Chess Club.

Chess Club

The North Central Chess Club is a small but dedicated band of miniature strategists. Friendly competition, occurring twice weekly, produced a team including beginners and pros alike. The top players represented the school at the all-city tournament in May. Concentration and clever tactics resulted in a successful season.

Right, A solemn moment is taken out of Chess Club President Dan Likarish's busy life.

Cutler. Row 2: Warren Huey, Brand Bersante, John Merriman, Bill Panknin,

Captain Fred Cervantes keeps watch on the stairway which he is patrolling.

Passer-by Jerry English pays no heed as a reluctant student argues with Hall Patrolman, Bill Overfield. Patrolman Robert Tussey looks on.

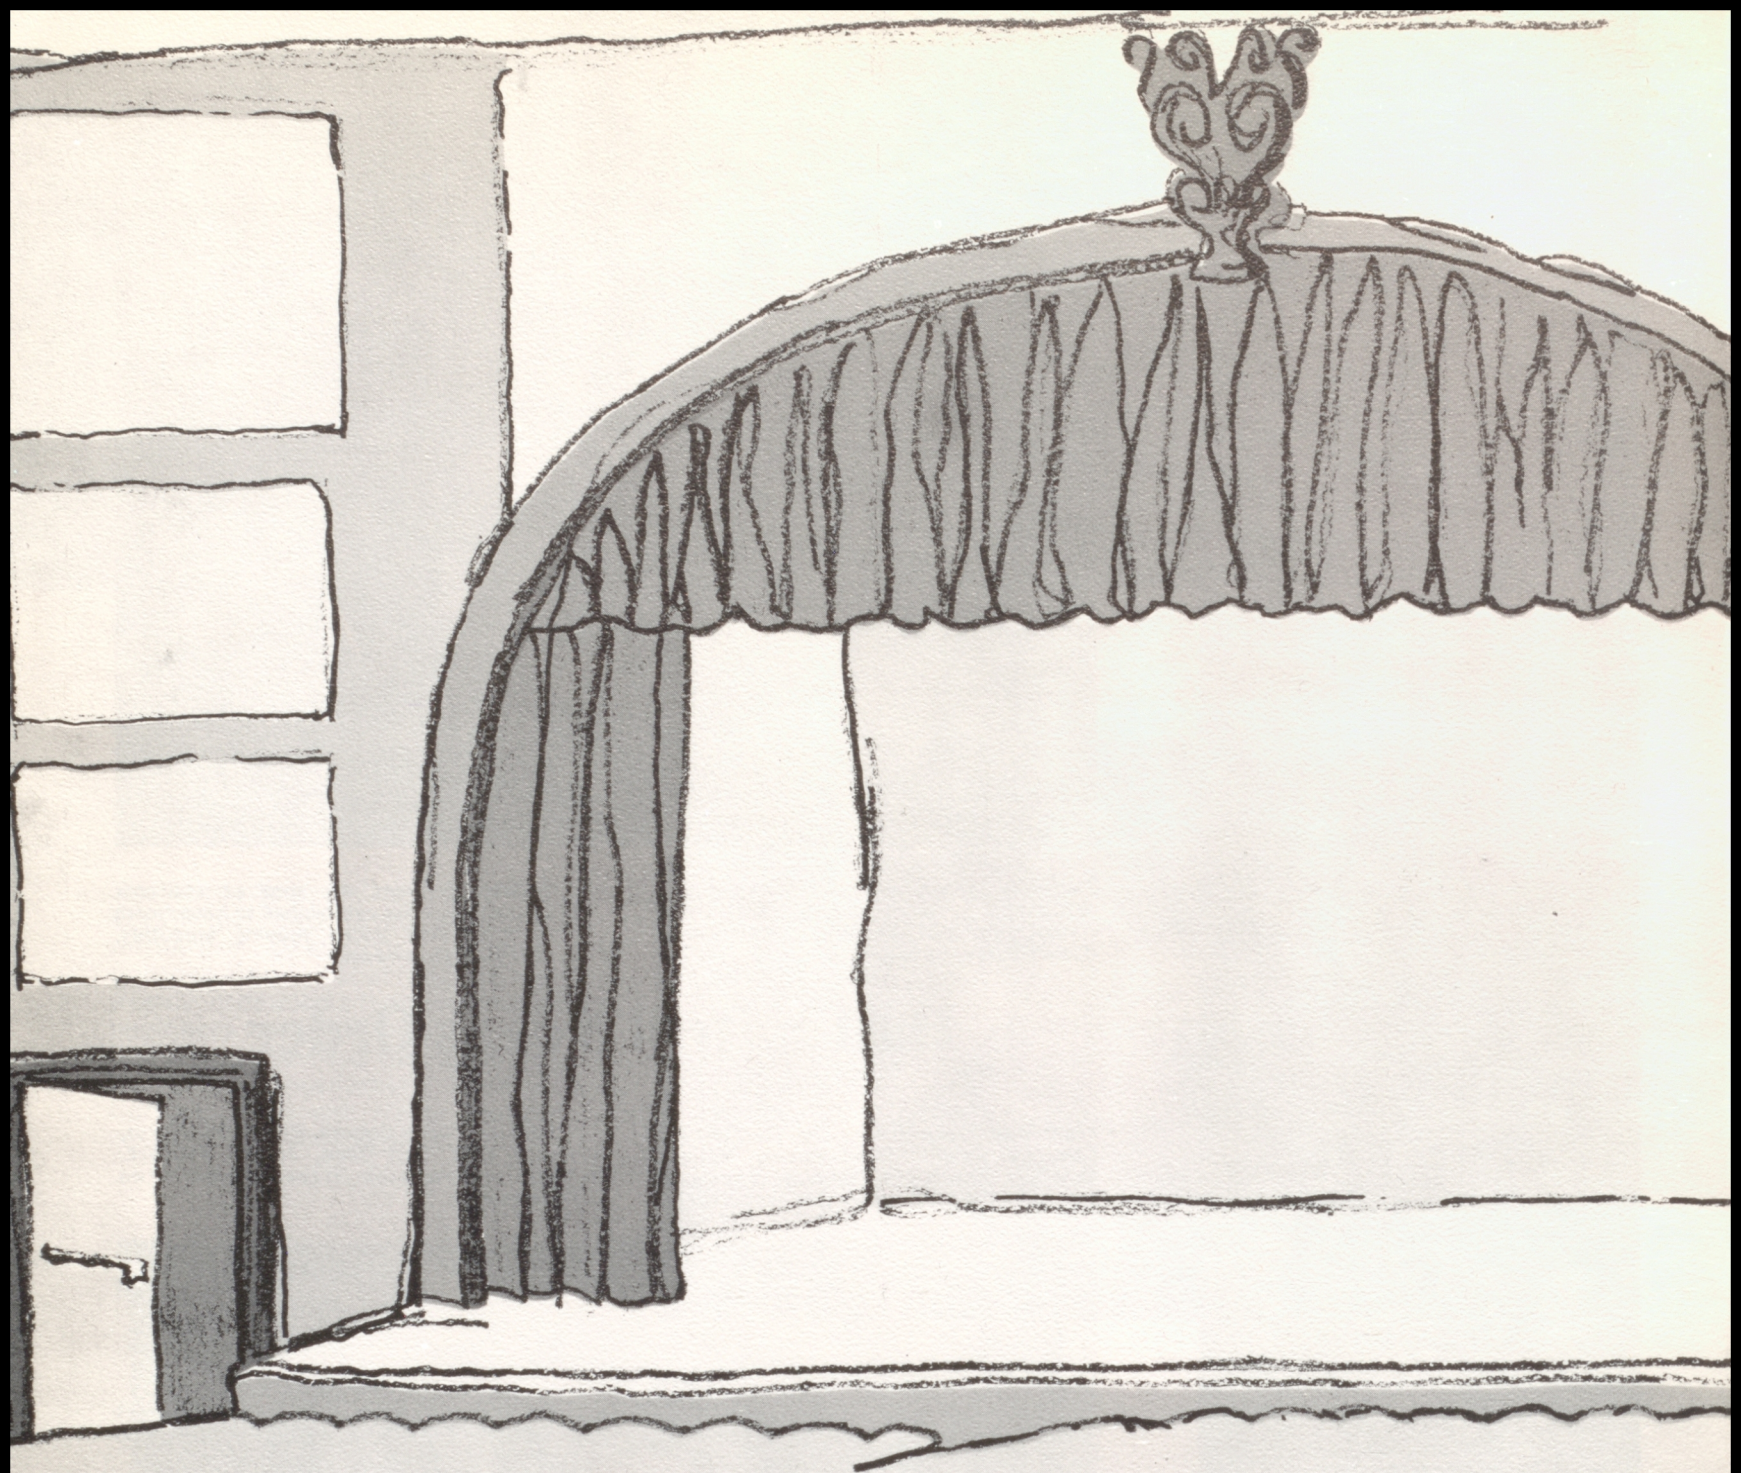

Traffic violators are rare as students respect the rules established to keep North Central's hall traffic moving smoothly, even though crowded.

Our WORLD is staggering. It may not stand. As next year's collegian, how will life's turbulent issues affect you? Whitworth has an idea. It's new, it's imaginary, it dares to look squarely at today's issues. They call it CORE 4-1-4. The CORE-five investigative courses for all Whitworth Students—lays bare our WORLD'S problems and triumphs, and lets us face the NOW together . . . Lets us search and discover the imperatives of the Christian Faith. It expands small worlds to help redeem the large one. FOUR-ONE-FOUR is four courses in the fall, one course in January, and four courses in the spring. It breaks out of traditional time and space patterns, and intensifies awareness. We know CORE 4-1-4 is a challenge. CAN IT SHAPE YOUR WORLD? Interested? We are. Let's face the NOW together . . . The College That Cares.
